

MENASHKI

There was a time in Canterlot when it was nothing but a dump, no population at all what's so ever. It was so full of junk nopony knew what most of it was. The thing that stood out most was a bright purple hat, it never moved; it was stuck there. One day the hat lifted off the ground, into the air. It flew around and landed in an abandoned lab. Lightning struck and the hat merged into a unicorn pony. The pony had glasses with blank white eyes, neon green hair and a blue coat. He had no parents, no backstory and nopony knew him, he was a complete stranger to the world. He was a very odd pony, but smart. He spent his entire life in the lab making machines that could change our world today. He stood up in front of his latest creation. A cloner. He needed to test it out on something, something living, but who? He went outside and squinted at the light, he needed to find somepony to test his machine.

After 10 weeks of searching he found a village. "Oh yes," said the doctor, grinning, "This is just what I am looking for!". He looked around and came up to a pony with a bouncy pink mane and a pink coat. "Hi mister! My names Pinkie Pie! Whats your name?" Said the pony before the doctor could turn around, "Well, I don't know. I don't even know how I came to exist," "Oh, well that's a shame, what are you doing in Ponyville anyway?" Said Pinkie Pie, "Well, I'm looking for somepony to test on my new machine, it's a cloner." Whispered the doctor, looking around trying to be hidden, "OH BOY A. CLO." The doctor placed his hoof in Pinkie Pies Mouth, "Just come with me, Pinkie, all right?" "Okie Dokie Lokie!" Said Pinkie Pie.

When they got back to the lab Pinkie Pie gaped at the big chunky machine in front of her when she walked in. "Get in there, Pinkie, I want to see if this works," Pinkie Pie stepped into the machine and lights started flashing. Then out came another pony. "where am I?" Said a Pegasus that looked like Pinkie Pie but with yellow hair and a white coat. "It. It didn't work!" Pinkie Pie came out looking dazed "Is that my clone? Yay! She's not just like me but I know we will be BEST FRIENDS!" The pony said, "Hi my names Menashki, I know your names Pinkie Pie, It's like I've known you since we were fillies!" "Well, thats great. I created a "best friend maker" instead of a cloner," "Don't worry!" Chimed Pinkie and Menashki, "Be happy! You could make lot's of lonely ponies happy!" The doctor grinned and said, "And I could make millions, too" Pinkie Pie and Menashki walked out and left the doctor by himself.

Around 4 weeks later when Pinkie Pie and Menashki were watching a movie the doctor came in looking panicked. "Help me! Help!" Menashki paused the movie "Whats wrong? What happened?" "My clo, Best friend maker has gone wrong, with somepony in it!" Pinkie Pie and Menashki looked shocked "what can we do?" "I think it turned into a time machine. You two need to help me, come!" Said the doctor waving a hoof at canterlot. "Let's go!"

Menashki and Pinkie Pie looked at each other in horror as they saw the machine, "How did it happen?" "I think too many people went into there and it couldn't take it!" Said the doctor, "You need to go in there, Menashki. Your the clone," "NO" Screamed Pinkie Pie, "if she goes in, I go in too," The doctor nodded and pointed his hoof at the half gone door. Pinkie Pie and Menashki stepped in and lights didn't flash, nothing happened. The doctor galloped near the door and saw Pinkie Pie and Menashki were gone, no trace of them, nopony was there. There was one thing, a strand of yellow and pink hair. The doctor shook his head. It was impossible. It couldn't be, he went through the machine and he closed his eyes.

There he was. He was back in time, exactly where he was but possibly a few 100 years ago. "I need to find Pinkie Pie and Menashki quickly! Although I am not sure if they," He trailed off as he got the strand of yellow and pink hair out of his lab pocket, "merged" he said under his breath. He got out of the building he was in, it looked like Albert Hoofsteins lab. The doctor looked around and saw someone that looked like Pinkie Pie or Menashki in a cloak. He galloped over there and said, "Pinkie Pie? Menashki? Is that you?" "Pinkie Pie? Menashki? Never heard of them," The mystery pony took her cloak off, "my name is Meringue,"

The doctor gasped as he saw a pony that had a pink and yellow mane, a white cloak and blank black eyes, "I am not a usual pony, just look at everyone around here! That's why I wear my cloak so no pony can make fun of me," "I come from the year 5000" replied the doctor. Meringue inspected the doctor "good I'm not the only one. Come with me," "the only wha.." Meringue hushed the doctor and they galloped off together, "where are we going?" Asked the doctor. The ponies eyes turned a flash of red without the doctor seeing it, "finally! We're here!" whispered Meringue, "come" the doctor was wondering where he was, but before he could think furthermore he got dragged into a room that looked a lot like a prison, "Meringue, what are you...." before the doctor could finish his sentence he got shoved to the other side of the room, Meringue's eyes turned red and she started to break apart and the pieces fell into the floor. The doctor's eyes filled with tears, he tried to go over there but he couldn't, he was trapped. He levitated into the air and tried to get out of what felt like a box, but couldn't. He tried to use his unicorn magic, but he couldn't, the trap was magic proof, just at that moment the pieces on the ground levitated, but not from him. The pieces turned black, rotten and formed into an alicorn.

The doctor looked at the monster above him, he stumbled back and tried his best to get out, "Oh, you fool! I am not Meringue! I am Queen Chrysalis! Your "friends" are right here," just at that moment two ponies that looked a lot like Pinkie Pie and Meringue were tied together. "No pony can stop me now!
